THE DAILY MEMPHIS AVALANCHE.

THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Congress meets on Thursday the 21st of November.

General N. B. Buford has been appointed to examine the eastern section of the Union Pacific railroad in place of Frank P. Blair.

The President of the Kingston, (New York) First National Bank is a defaulter to the amount of $91,000.

The dog show near Paris has been very successful. Several dogs representing every variety, have been on exhibition.

The ichneumon fly, the great destroyer of the cotton worm, has appeared in large numbers on the Texas coast, to the great joy of the planters.

A New Yorker, who was thanked by a lady to whom he gave his seat to in a street car, is so astonished that he writes to the papers about it.

An American paper speaks of a man "who died without the aid of a physician," and adds that such instances are very rare.

The Secretary of the Treasury has addressed a circular to the collectors of our principal ports, enjoining vigilance against the Coolie trade.

A lot in Chicago, forty feet front by one hundred and ten feet deep, was sold on the 4th instant for $3,000 per front foot, the highest price ever paid for land in that city.

Hugh Donegan, for whom $250 reward was offered by the sheriff of Dubuque county, Iowa, gave himself up and claimed the reward. He is charged with manslaughter.

Mexican advices state that Juarez has formed his Cabinet, and divided the country into five military districts, to which Regles, Diaz, Escobedo, Corosa and Alvarez have been appointed as commanders.

The Reverend scoundrel Wendt, who committed rape upon a number of little girls in the Orphan Asylum at Philadelphia, of which he was the Superintendent, has been scatenced to seventeen years' imprisonment.

The Memphis and Charleston train, last Saturday, brought down one hundred white laborers to work on the Little Rock road. We are assured that this important line will be pushed forward to a rapid completion.

The Corinth (Mississippi) News is now issued daily by its enterprising editors, Milligan, Vesey & Rey. It is a neat printed sheet, but its position on reconstruction is radically wrong.

It is a curious fact that each newspaper, in speaking of the sanitary condition of the cities, now a-days, claims the one in which it is published as being the most filthy.

A young man, named William Gay, while riding in the tilts of the tournament at Augusta, Arkansas, last week, was thrown from his horse and received internal injuries which, it is feared, will prove fatal.

The New Orleans Picayune of Sunday says that from the 1st of July to the 1st of October, 1853, the number of deaths in that city from yellow fever was 9,043. Compared with these figures, that paper remarks, the fatality of the disease there this season is as nothing.

The Nashville Union and Dispatch of last Sunday says: "Several of the best and most substantial citizens of East Tennessee are prospecting around our city for the purpose of buying farms. We welcome them among us, for they were true to us in the days "that tried men's souls."

It is reported in Washington that one class of Republicans there recently advised General Grant to withdraw from the War Department, and that another class advised him to remain, but that the General made no response.

Jay Cook made over twelve million dollars profits out of Government securities during the war. He pays no taxes on this amount, but draws as interest in gold each year eight hundred and forty thousand dollars! Quite a little contribution from the tax payers of America.

The Democracy of Kansas have called a State Convention at Leavenworth on the 18th of September, to nominate a State ticket. The leading Democratic paper, the Leavenworth Commercial, strongly presses the issue of paying the bonded debt in greenbacks.

The new cable of the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company has been successfully laid between Placentia, Newfoundland, and North Sidney, Cape Breton, and proves to be one of the most perfect ever made.

A Montgomery, Alabama, special of the 5th says: Williams and Holmes, the colored Conservative orators from Tennessee, spoke this evening in front of Montgomery Hall. Williams denounced the league, and was frequently interrupted by blacks. Several colored speakers followed Williams—all advocating harmony between the races.

The Postmaster General has directed a contract to be made with William Elliott, of Memphis, to carry the mails from Memphis to Vicksburg and back twice a week, on steamboat, supplying all intermediate offices, his compensation to be sixteen thousand dollars per annum, and dating from October 1, 1867.

By the publication of a large amount of diplomatic correspondence, it appears that Secretary Seward, last month, tendered the wife of President Juarez a national vessel to proceed to Vera Cruz, and that she accepted the same. The tender was made about twenty days after Minister Campbell had been refused a national vessel to proceed from New Orleans.

The expenses of the War Department in 1866, a year of profound peace, were $286,000,000. In 1860, the last year of Democratic ascendency, they were $16,000,000. We then, however, did not maintain a useless standing army of 57,000 men, nor did we keep up as connected with the military service a Freedmen's Bureau, to support out of the hard earnings of the people all the negroes who were too lazy to work. We then had a plain, simple, Republican government. Now we have an expensive and corrupt imperial system. That is the reason of the difference.

It is understood in Washington that the reason of the delay in the removal of Judge Holt, is a doubt of the proper construction of the law creating the office of Judge Advocate. The general act is construed by some as requiring a trial by a military court before a Judge can be suspended or removed; by others the act is construed to empower the President to suspend or relieve any officer upon such grounds as the Executive may deem sufficient. The matter will not probably be disposed of until the return of the Attorney General, when the question will be submitted to him for his opinion.

On the 1st of September, Thurlow Weed, of New York, addressed General Grant a letter, alleging that Colonel Hillyer is implicated in the charged frauds against the Revenue Department, which Congress intends investigating. General Grant sent Weed's letter to Colonel Hillyer, without comment, to which the latter writes Thurlow a most scathing reply, commencing: "The impertinence of the letter would be incomprehensible did it emanate from any other than yourself. The impertinence of your addressing General Grant on any subject—the impertinence of your addressing General Grant about me—the impertinence of your accusing anybody of implication in fraud—is impertinence without parallel."

Two hundred vessels will be employed in the oyster trade at Norfolk, Virginia, this season.

Manager Flynn will open the old Theater at Nashville, next Monday night, producing the Black Crook.

Abram Myers, a citizen of Nashville, fell from the balcony of the Crystal Palace, at Louisville, on the evening of the 7th, and was instantly killed. He was a Radical candidate for Mayor of the first named city.

Two Radicals were recently elected constables in the Lebanon, Tennessee, District, but failed to be responsible bondsmen; consequently, another election has been ordered.

A Washington special of the 7th says: "The struggle for the removal of McCulloch has almost ceased. It was broken off by the alleged promise of the latter to promptly co-operate with the friends of the administration hereafter in the distribution of the patronage of the Treasury Department. Among the names suggested for the position of McCulloch, in case of a change in the Treasury Department, is that of Hon. Wm. S. Groesbeck, of Ohio.

Wilson is reported, by a correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, to have remarked recently: "A few weeks ago the great body of the Republicans of the country hoped to be able to accomplish their purpose without resorting to impeachment and the removal of the President; but the course he is now taking is carrying a great body of the party the other way, and to-day the great mass of the Republican party believe the President will be impeached, and that he deserves impeachment."

Sickles' Letter to Grant.

We do not regard this letter of sufficient importance to occupy so large a space in our paper as its extreme length would require, but as part of the history of the times, an intelligible, though condensed sketch may not be inappropriate. He denies having made an issue with the Supreme Court and defied its decrees, and contends that the issue in the premises is made up with the Congress, whose laws the military are there to execute. He says:

"The complaint now made is, that I have forbidden the execution of the process of the Court of the United States in North Carolina, and have thus set myself above the law of the land. If it had been said I entertain the opinion that the same reason of public policy which constrained me to determine the time and manner in which collections of debts should be enforced in the State Courts should equally guide me in the exercise of just and necessary discretion in like cases, in all the courts in this military district, my position would have been truly stated, for I do firmly believe that Congress, intending to secure the restoration of these States to the Union, made all other questions subsidiary to the accomplishment of this end. I do not believe that the process of courts

Relative to the famous order No. 10, he alleges he only went to the extent to say to those who had already entered upon judgments, forbear for twelve months to enforce your executions; second, to those who were suing on contracts made during the war, it was said, take no further steps at present in the prosecution of your suit; third, to those who were prosecuting claims for purchase money of slaves, it was said they are prohibited; to those who have had demands upon contracts made since the cessation of hostilities, no interference was threatened or allowed. If any interference is to be justified, what less than what was to be done could have been done? He recapitulates: No question or issue has yet arisen between the courts of the United States in this military district and the district commander. It appears, however, an issue is invited by a subordinate ministerial officer, as the regulations prescribed in general order No. 10, have not been considered or passed upon by any courts of the United States except in the South Carolina Circuit Court, where it has been seen the provisions of this order were enforced. The only judicial precedent, therefore, is against the action of the Marshal of North Carolina, who is not even a judicial officer. The process in the hands of his Deputy was not issued upon any judgment, or order, in which the court had passed on the powers, duties or orders of any military officer. It is to be presumed perfect harmony of action does exist, and will continue to exist between the federal, judiciary and military authority of the United States in the Second Military District.

After saying that none of the measures he had adopted, so far as he knew, had been disapproved by Government, he says:

"With the War Department, in all that has been done in this military district, the records of my office show perfect accord. Nothing has been done of which full information has not been given to proper authority, and nothing has been done which has not always been conceded as proper subject to review the modification or revocation by competent authority, and nothing of all that has been done officially to censure any official suggestion requiring the modification of any order, and nothing which at first may have seemed questionable, has failed to receive official approval."

From the conclusion of the letter this brief extract alone is important:

"The work of reconstruction in the Carolinas has all been done quietly, without the exercise of force. It is known that the forces here will be used if necessary. I do not hesitate to give you my deliberate conviction, that if other agencies had been employed in the work of reconstruction, they would have failed, and that failure would have involved a resort to military force, not to promote order, but to suppress violence."

He winds up by promising to obey any order that the Commanding General may give, although expressing regret that any change of policy may be inaugurated.

ADDITIONAL.

WASHINGTON, September 8.

The full correspondence between General Sickles and the civil authorities in North Carolina relative to the late conflict with the military, is made public to-day, and adds some interesting facts to the recent controversy. It includes the opinion of Chief Justice Chase delivered at Raleigh in June regarding the relation of the United States Courts to the Reconstruction act. The following is the first letter of the United States Marshal to General Sickles:

OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES MARSHAL,
RALEIGH, N. C., July 30, 1867.

SIR: I have the honor to inclose a copy of an order from one of your subordinates to my deputy at Wilmington, which forbids the enforcement of an execution issued at the June term of the United States Circuit Court. In this I feel assured he is mistaken, since I cannot suppose you would undertake to set aside any law of the Government to which you owe allegiance. I am strengthened in this view of the case by the opinion of the Chief Justice, delivered to the bar of this city at the opening of the court. You are aware that my duty is to obey the laws of the United States, and as I, at the same time, greatly desire to avoid a collision between the civil and military authorities, I have directed my deputy to suspend the execution of the writ until you can be informed of the facts.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, yours,
(Signed) DANIEL R. GOODLOE.

General Sickles, in reply, solicits a copy of the opinion of Justice Chase and the nature of the process issued from his court, to which the Marshal thus replied:

UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
RALEIGH, August 26, 1867.

As I cannot recognize the right of the military authorities to obstruct or inquire into the nature of the process of the United States Courts, put into my hands, I must decline to give the information called for as to (where and when the several causes of action occurred) whether the action for debt or other causes where the suit began, where judgment was given, and when the final process for execution is issued. The address of the Chief Justice to the Bar was published in the newspapers of the State about the 10th of June, and can doubtless be found at Wilmington.

(Signed) DANIEL R. GOODLOE.

General Sickles, however, finally obtained the record of the Court and laid the matter before the Judge Advocate of the Second Military District, who summed up the legal points as follows:

1st. That a reversion of General Order No. 10 would be greviously prejudicial to the interests of the people of the Carolinas.

2d. That Judge Brooks says that any conflicts between the United States Circuit Court for North Carolina and the military commander of this district, but merely a collision with the Marshal, practically forced by the latter.

3d. That it is reasonable to believe that Mr. Chief Justice Chase, with the question before him, will conform the proceedings on the final process to the local law as modified by the Commanding General.

4th. That Congress intended to make the military in these districts paramount to all other departments of the Government.

5th. That to concede to the United States Courts authority to overrule the military commander will be apt to lead to a substantial nullification of the Reconstruction acts.

On this opinion General Sickles based his report just published. The remainder of the correspondence relates to merely formal details between the Commanding General and his subordinate officers.

WEDNESDAY, : : : : SEPTEMBER 11, 1867

GOVERNOR PATTON, of Alabama, is running the gauntlet of kicks and curses. If this poor, weak and imbecile old flunkey has not the hide of a hippopotamus he will wince under the lash of an honest and indignant public press. Ambition—selfish, sordid and mean—is to Governor PATTON'S rotten heart what the vulture was to the liver of PROMETHEUS. He has evidently kicked honor and principle to the dogs, turned a political harlot, and is now ready to prostitute himself to the party that gives the highest pay. Less than twelve months ago he was bitterly opposed to the Military Reconstruction bill. He convened the Legislature in extraordinary session. Ignorant and illiterate as he is known to be, he employed to write his message one of those contemptible lackeys who secure their raiment by disgusting toadyism, and subsist by picking up the filthy crumbs that fall from the table of unworthy men dressed in a little brief authority. That message did not read like the cold, heartless emanations of a pensioned scribbler; on the contrary, it seemed to come warm and gushing from a pure and noble heart—one that loved the Constitution and which was determined to shield our living heroes from shame and canonize our blessed and ever glorious dead as immortal martyrs. With a surpassing eloquence and ability Governor PATTON argued against the Military Reconstruction bill and all the wild and infamous schemes of the Radical party. But his patriotism was like the snow flake upon the river. What cared he for principles when a seat in the United States Senate and the office of Governor were looming up to tempt his weak and sordid nature. Men, however base, scarcely ever turn traitor at a single bound, and of course Governor PATTON commenced embracing Radicalism by degrees. If he had followed the instincts of his perfidious heart he would have fled from our party to the other with the swoop of the eagle; but he saw and felt and knew that he was bringing shame and disgrace upon his name, and he has made the journey with the slow pace of the snail. But the goal has been reached, and Governor PATTON is now ready to label the wounds of our living heroes with treason, and to write upon the tombs of our sainted dead a false and foul profanation. Ordinarily it requires a life time for men to eat their peck of dirt; but this vermiperous Governor of Alabama takes his peck at a single meal. He is now the most abject and craven of all the toad eaters. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS proclaimed in the Senate of the United States that this is a white man's Government, instituted by white men for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever. But the immaculate Governor of Alabama has reversed the teachings of his former disciple, for he seems to think that the Government of Alabama is a black man's Government, instituted by black men for the benefit of black men and their posterity forever. As evidence of this we have only to refer to his recent conduct, in behalf of a couple of negro monsters in Mobile, named GRANT and ROBINSON. A short time since they robbed the house of a Mr. PETERS, and committed one of the most heinous and revolting of all crimes upon a mother and little daughter only twelve years of age. The particulars, as revealed in court, showed a cruelty and brutality shocking in the extreme, and provoked such indignation that it was with great difficulty the infuriated crowd was kept from committing summary violence. These monsters were to have been hanged, but Governor PATTON has respited them, and commuted the sentence of another negro, who was sentenced to be hung for murdering a young white man. Governor PATTON is a candidate for the office of Governor, which he now disgraces, and is also an aspirant for United States Senator, and he is pardoning wretches guilty of rapine and murder in order to secure the negro vote of the State. Indeed Governor PATTON is fast winning an immortality of infamy. If he continues his course he will surely be scorned and despised by every honest and honorable man, and will live to learn that, dead to shame as he is, he may still be made to feel that the basely purchased and ill-deserved laurels with which he would deck his brow are filled with thorns. The man who sells himself and his principles, may gain power, but his seat will be nothing but a public pillory, and his honors the hissing scorn and contempt of the world.

THE telegraph sends us the gratifying intelligence that the Conservatives have achieved a glorious victory in Montana. KAVANAUGH, the Democratic candidate for Congress, has swept the Territory like a mountain torrent. The voice which California uttered a few days since against Republicanism, has been re-echoed in a new and unexpected quarter. Again we congratulate our friends on the reaction which has manifested itself in the North. The Democrats will sweep the State of New York, and make large gains in Ohio and Pennsylvania, at the approaching elections. There is a fearful story told somewhere of the imprisonment of an unhappy convict in an iron chamber, where he could watch the gradual but steady closing of the walls about him, minute by minute, until they collapsed together to crush him at last. The Radical party is in the same predicament. They may rejoice in their fancied security, trample upon the Constitution and belie, abuse and tyrannize over a defenseless people—but the walls of the iron cell begins to tighten and contract, and they will fall mangled and crushed like Hindoos, beneath the ponderous wheels of the fatal Juggernaut. When BELSHAZZAR beheld the flaming writing on the wall, he was stricken with fear, and would fain have sought some refuge; but it was too late. When PHARAOH and his men witnessed the waters closing upon them, they would gladly have turned back; but it was too late. Bad as were BELSHAZZAR and PHARAOH, the Radicals should learn a lesson from their fatal end. Now that they begin to see the waves dashing against them, and the letters of warning written across the sky, they should take care lest they do not wait until it is too late.

THE last number of the Water Valley (Mississippi) Courier alludes to the article which appeared in our paper some days since, referring to McEWEN, the news agent on the Mississippi Central road. In the Courier's editorial, this paragraph occurs:

We know General West, and can say that he is honest and conscientious, and would wrong no man, and the AVALANCHE does him great injustice, when they intimate that he would screen McEwen or any other person connected with his road.

The AVALANCHE did not reflect upon General WEST'S honesty, but upon his discourtesy in not replying to a respectful letter we had mailed to his address, in which was detailed McEWEN'S want of integrity in discharging the obligations we held against him, and advising of the complaints our friends on that road were continually making in regard to their not being able to procure our paper, and asking the General to aid us in letting the AVALANCHE reach those who wished it along the Central road. We desire to "wrong no man" equally as much as General WEST possibly can, and we do not feel that we have done so in what we have said of the man McEWEN'S unfair dealings at our office, or General WEST'S discourteous silence to the polite letter we addressed him. The Courier says, also, that the General will see that the news agent shall adjust our bill against him. We hope so, and will be much obliged when it is done.

LITTLE Phil. Sheridan, on the 7th instant, while going to St. Louis to have his littleness still more inflated by his Radical friends, passed by Cairo. A special to the St. Louis Republican thus speaks of the event: "A rather amusing circumstance happened in connection with his arrival. As the boat came in, Colonel Schenck, commanding post, was firing a salute over the glorious news from California. The Duke and staff were thrown into great excitement, supposing the honor intended for his Highness; but their feathers fell rapidly when they were better informed."

The races at Lexington, Kentucky, commenced on the 9th, with two races. The first race was mile heats, three horse starting. Clay's bay colt, by Revenue, was the favorite against the other two, McGrath's Erin and Alexander's Australian colt. Clay's entry won the first heat in the fast time of 1:44¾, and Alexander's won the next two heats and the race. Time—1:44¾, 1:48, 1:50. The second race was two mile heats, with three entries—Alexander's bay, Waterford's General GRANT, and Harper's Extra. It was won in two straight heats by Extra. Time—3:39½, 3:46. The first heat is considered the quickest two mile time on record.

The editor of the Murfreesboro Monitor, who knows what he is talking about, says: "We have received a circular letter under the frank of Tribulation Sheep Shanks, Member of Congress, requesting us to inform the Committee recently appointed by Congress, of any instances of mistreatment of prisoners by the Confederates that have come to our knowledge. If he is particularly solicitous in the matter, we might, with very little trouble, give him scores of instances where Confederate prisoners were murdered in the Federal prisons of Rock Island, Elmira and Camp Chase—where hundreds upon hundreds were pitted brutally tortured or literally starved or frozen to death—where they were subjected to every species of brutality that fiendish, cowardly malignity could suggest. If Shanks wants anything of that kind, we can supply him with just as much as he wants.

The London Times has reason to believe that the report of the Ritual Commission, which the Archbishop of Canterbury has announced will shortly be issued, and will be decidedly adverse to the practices which seem to have been lately brought into vogue by a section of the clergy of the Church of England. The majority of the commissioners condemn these innovations as illegal or inexpedient, and advise that they be prohibited.

A duel is threatened at Washington between two military officers because one slapped the other in the face about a woman, but he didn't whale him over the nose.

SURRATT is not to be tried until Congress shall have passed an act that colored citizens shall act as jurors.

MARRIED.

On Monday, the 9th instant, at St. Peter and St. Paul's Church, by the Rev. Father Gaffney, Mr. P. H. BILLOW to Miss DELIA M. NASH, all of this city.

The happy knight of the Mystic sacred flame has Hymen lighted and added another brilliant ray to his glowing torch Like a dream has the gallant BILLOW passed from us, but to appear again in all the glory of man's natural condition—a married man. Taking for the partner of his joys and sorrows one of our city's fairest and purest daughters, his way cannot least otherwise than along the primrose path of life and our dearest wish is that each return of the seasons will bring to the happy couple nothing but peace and the fair flowerings of such joys as are but rarely known this side of the river of life. The beautiful thought of the poet comes into our mind—

"I saw two clouds at early morn tinged by the rising sun—
They floated on, but were not they were mingled into one."
And, again, that in winning such a prize in the marriage lottery, friend BILLOW has secured such a wife as when

His home she enters she will be a light
Shining with'n, when all without is night—
A guardian angel over his life presiding,
Doubling h's pleasures and his cares dividing.

The Greatest Cough Remedy Ever Discovered.

DR. C. WILLIAMS'

Compound Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naphtha,

FOR THE COMPLETE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood and all other Lung Complaints, ending in Consumption.

READ! READ! READ!

THIS justly celebrated preparation is recommended by some of the most learned and intelligent physicians in the country, and will be found far superior to any remedy for the cure of all diseases of the respiratory organs. All persons who have used Dr. WILLIAMS' Cough, Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Cough, Croup or Sore, Consumption, Pain, soreness of the Chest, Difficult or Wheezing Breathing, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all Lung and Throat Diseases, attest to the superior efficacy in the most distressing cases.

BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of Consumption, is promptly relieved and cured by it. The most prominent symptoms of this disease, (Bronchitis) are Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Soreness of the Chest, Pain in the Side, Night Sweats, Chills, Fever, Accompanied with sometimes a Hacking Cough, Raising of Blood, Phlegm and Matter, which finally destroys the patient. It is unfortunately the case that the ravages of this disease are not checked in the earlier stages of the disease, when a few doses of this medicine would relieve the whole of the wind tubes or air cells through every part of the Lungs. This pulmonic Balsam immediately suppresses the Cough and Pain, subdues the inflammation and fever, removes the difficulty of breathing, and by its wonderful healing power in the soothes a cure is soon effected. It always cures ASTHMA. Two or three doses will relieve the CROUP. Or MINUTE or chil dren in a few minutes, and it is remarkable how prompt it is in subduing the violence of WHOOPING COUGH. Age affecting a speedy cure, and many who have once given up by their physicians, and friends, have been restored to perfect health by it.

Sold by all Druggists in Memphis and everywhere in the South and West.

THE LAST CHANCE TO-DAY.—Those who contemplate attending the grand tournament at Iuka, on the 12th and 13th instant, will have to leave to-day by the Memphis and Charleston railroad. It will be one of the most imposing displays of chivalry and gallantry, the most gorgeous assemblages of fair women and brave men ever held in North Mississippi. The prizes are handsome. The knights are young men of the highest respectability, and the ladies who will grace the festival with their presence are among the awe-inind flowers of the State. The tournament is no common one, e ther in the excellence of its arrangements or the benevolent object for which it is gotten up.

AN EXCELLENT HARDWARE STORE IN A NEW LOCATION.—The well known and popular firm of N. H. Their store has heretofore been noted for the excellence of its goods rather than its exterior display, and we presume that the well earned reputation of its proprietors will be fully sustained in their new location. No men stand higher than they do for sterling honesty of character and fair dealing.

PERSONAL.—We are gratified to see moving in mercantile circles again, Mr. L. W. Vaughan, of the popular and efficient commission firm, Longley, Mashedlaed & Co., 300 Front street. Mr. Vaughan has just returned from an extensive tour through North Alabama and the adjoining portions of Tennessee. He reports the crops in splendid condition, corn especially promising a most abundant yield. The cotton crop is of a vigorous growth, and will, if frost be delayed, yield a larger yield than last year. Farmers generally are in good spirits and hopeful, notwithstanding all oppressing influences of the present outrageous state and military surveillance. He thinks, all things considered, that we may expect lively times here during the incoming fall and winter. In a word, the signs of the times are exceedingly encouraging.

Delays are dangerous. The last opportunity to get dry goods, etc., at half price, at Elsner, See advertisement. 2t

MISSOURI AS IT IS IN 1867.—We have been much pleased with a new work on Missouri by N. H. Parker, Esq. which has been published by J. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, and is for sale in this city by M. Wade, 20, —, Main street, Memphis. Many things that we wanted and had no definite information, well arranged and brought down to or into a date, that it should have a place in every library. It begins with a general preface, embracing natural and historical view of the State. It gives valuable information in relation to vine-grow ng, and then, as it is adapted, in specialty to the wants of those who contemplate emigrating to the great State of Missouri, it gives detailed information in relation to every county in the State, its soil, character, productions, marbles, mineral resources, healthiness, and other particulars. The work has been indorsed by the Missour. Legislature, and by many prominent men and leading newspapers of that S. st.

INDEPENDENT POLITICAL FRAUDS PROPOSED.

Crowds of Blacks taken to the Free States to Vote.

Ohio to Have a Taste of Southern Radicalism.

Several gentlemen of the highest respectability, whose names will be given to any person desiring it, in have come of our attention by the enormous frauds that are contemplated by the Radical party at the coming election in Ohio, on October 8th. East of Ironton, Ohio, and in the Scioto Valley, which is the Kentucky and Kanawha road dominates on the Cincinnati and Louisville road, upon a different day, and each found from thirteen to fifteen cars filled with blacks and had been brought from Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Southern Mississippi, and were justly Northward. The majority of them did not know where they were going to, but said the "Board was sending them somewhar to vote." Some of the more intelligent ones said they were going to Ohio for that purpose. They were to go through Louisville without stopping, and all their expenses were to be paid by the Freedmen's Bureau. They were to vote as they were told, and were assured that the Bureau would take care of them and see to their getting home as soon as they were dis harged. How long the time was to be they could not say, but they were to remain in Ohio for it is known whether the negroes are entitled to suffrage before after the election or to be taken back to their old homes in the far South. Of course the appears of the great modern Simonwoth fraud is borne by the conscientious managers of the Freedmen's Bureau out of the funds of the United States. How will the North like it when she finds that the cash wrung from her citizens to support the Freedmen's Bureau are used to carry out treasonable conspiracy, schemes to override the will of the whole people, by the votes of ignorant and degraded blacks from Georgia and other southern States. The end, in the opinion of Radical politicians, as entitles the means, and to carry the Ohio election, blacks are sent through at the expense of the United States in thirteen and fifteen car load batches. The people of Ohio may wish to difference how of blacks crowding out white voters and casting pon-sition of every poll in Memphis on election day. How will they like it if they find that blacks from the far South have carried the election in their own State? The blacks are the most ignorant class in the United States. They are thus the best material to be used in political frauds. More intelligent men might not be come so easily the tools of demagogues. More intelligent men might fear the penalties of voting where they have no right, or of voting many times at the same election, but the blacks taken to Ohio know nothing of the legal penalties they risk. They will do just as they are bidde; by their disinfluences Southern Ohio will learn practically what considering on black masses political power means; or we might say, will mean, when they acquire the right, which is only partially allowed in certain localities, as in the greater portion of the State only very bright mulattoes are allowed to exercise the franchise.

There was a great meeting on Friday at Covington, Tipton county, to further the building of the Mississippi River railroad. Mr. Mitchell, the father of the enterprise, and Landon C. Haynes, Esq., made speeches. The people were enthusiastic for building the road. About fifty thousand dollars have been subscribed. It is intended that this road shall, by way of Mayfield, connect with Paducah, and ultimately with the great Northern chains of railroads. It will, also, by the iron Mountain railroad, connect with St. Louis. Its projectors say that it will be a hundred miles shorter to go by it to New York than by any other road now in existence.

An engineer of much ability suggests the following plan for laying the street railroad upon the Nicolson pavement on Main street, viz: use no stringers: "Make a groove in the pavement about half the thickness of the rail, before the tar and gravel are applied. The most practical plan to do this well, and follow up the paving, is to make a light frame the width of the track, and say sixteen feet long, on this frame have sights at each end, and a pole placed in the center of the track some distance before the work. By this mode the grooves for the rail would be made straight by following in a straight line to the center pole. The outside of the frame would give the line of the rail on each side. The making of the grooves would be but a small job on this plan. When the street is coated with the tar and gravel, the rail could be put in its proper place. The rail on the Poplar and Jefferson street bridges was laid on the top of the pavement, and answered the purpose well. When the groove is made in the pavement, there will be no possibility of the rail moving."

The motioners go about the streets refusing to be comforted. They are said to be conductors, clerks, engineers, book-keepers, everything on the Memphis and Ohio railroad, but the Receiver didn't get his black and there is wailing among the expectants. They wrote letters; they got up strong testimonials; they demonstrated on paper their efficiency; they telegraphed to Boston and elsewhere for political backing; they had a dead sure thing for fat places, and lots of stealings, since all the Receiver needs is honesty and knowledge of book keeping at a dollar a day, and he can get that for a song; but they failed and various orgbienes as they took their fright. Some of them had been writing annonymous letters, to show how badly things were managed, and how well they could do it. They had been talking of the steady fall of stock over the Ohio and Mississippi, and their disappointment. No wonder they are sister at Mr. Woodruff, because he was not displaced. No wonder they hate Sam. Jones. No wonder they look with jaundiced eyes on the heavily laden freight that is coming over the fruit. Their whisky money is pretty much gone, and they don't know where more is to come from.

First Fight Last Sunday.

Two boys, about eighteen years of age, named Jasper Lowdlyn and Charles Blanch, went over to Arkansas on last Sunday morning, accompanied by a few friends to determine which of them had most pluck, pugilistic skill and endurance. There was no money on the contest, and no bad feeling between the parties. The fight lasted about fifteen minutes. Only a few persons were present at the affair, as it was kept very private; but it was known and noticed thousand about the city previous Sunday morning. Charley being regarded as likely to prove the victor. There were about fourteen rounds in all. There were umpires and a person to each man, be., in deference to Sunday, there were no bottle holders. Throughout the fight Charley, Jasper was probably the best sparrer of the two; his blows were mainly at the head and face while Charley thumped away at the ribs. In the second round Jasper received a heavy blow on the neck. In the third round Charley got a heavy lick-off on the forehead. In the fourth round he was hit on the right eye, and in the sixth round he was knocked down. In the eighth round they at point and Charles made a foul blow, his opponent, and his opponent claimed no advantage from it. In the ninth round Charley's right eye was quite much closed; he however contended manfully until the fourteenth round, when his friends threw up the sponge. With the exception of the violation of Sunday, there was nothing that reflected disreputably on any of the parties. The officers of the county on the Arkansas shore, and of this city, were out the parties, shook hands and returned to our good friends.

A BLACK CALENDY PROPOSAL.—It is a curious circumstance, that while religion is growing and morality improving among the white portion of our population, and while a few of the colored people are amassing property, the great majority of them are rapidly going to the bad pitch. Never before were there so many colored persons in prison in proportion to colored population. Never before were so great a number of colored girls and women depraved in their lives and carriages. The truth from that termination it is impossible to deny estimate, and now that Northern propagandists have left in great measure cease their labors in the colored vineyard, and the negro is left to the guidance of his passions and the care of political demagogues, southern philanthropy we should make an effort to save a portion of the wreck of ruin from apparently impending vengeance. There are in almost parts of the South large tracts of Government land where negroes might be settled in colonies, if they were aided and encouraged to obtain homesteads. In one county of East Tennessee there are thirty thousand acres of good land that can be purchased on long time, for one dollar an acre; and in Senator Sumner's district there is in one body, sixty thousand acres of excellent land, to which there is an indisputable title, and which can be purchased at one dollar an acre on long time. Let some of our wealthy and philanthropical citizens purchase one or more such tracts in East Tennessee, and then locate a great colony of blacks. They could take from each black family ten, fifteen or twenty dollars last, and call them twenty or thirty acres of land, giving them two, three or five years to pay the balance. The blacks that are here as idle, vicious nuisances in many cases, would thus have a chance to make homes for themselves. Such an enterprise would do them good, and would feed excellent locations in many parts of East Tennessee. There the land is fertile, the climate healthy, the mineral wealth great. The Radicals of East Tennessee could not consistently object to such an immigration. On the sixty thousand acre tract are ten thousand families of colored people could be located on thirty acre farms.

Two of the boys, named Fanny McMahon and Bryan McDavitt, had a set-to, a short time since, to discover which of the two was the better man physically, but the result was unsatisfactory to either party, so another meeting was arranged, to come off Saturday. A good many of their friends took an interest in the affair, and early yesterday morning a crowd started from Plum Lot Chutes, but the police had got wind of the affair, and considered it a better chance to distinguish themselves by stopping it than by detecting murderers or stealing thieves. The pugilists and their friends went five or six miles into the country, but the police kept after them, and so the matter was defeated by another time and place. The conduct of the principals and their friends, under the circumstances, was certainly deserving of commendation. The several hundred men who went out to see the fight could very easily have tied the so-called Colonel and the men who were with him, and then gone on with the fight, but they were not disposed to do it. McMahon and McDavitt shook hands with each other at parting, and, expressing regret that they could not then and there test the question of physical superiority, agreed to take a change of venue, and have the fight in Arkansas, at an early day. The energy of the police in breaking up and preventing the fight, yesterday, is praised in several of the papers. It was noble, and deserved commendation. It would have been an awful circumstance if two fellows who wanted to try their mettle could not, on the other most had been allowed to do so, away out in the woods, six or eight miles from the city.

As an illustration of the fact that the Memphis and Ohio railroad does not discriminate against the interest of Memphis, we were yesterday shown, by a resident of one of the points between this and Hickman, a correspondence between a very influential mercantile firm and one of the freight agents The firm suggested that from a point on the line of the Memphis and Ohio road, they could ship a very large amount of corn, per annum, and they desired to know if they could not do so by paying from there the same amount as from Memphis. They ascertained that from any point on the railroad east of this, local rates had to be charged, and that, consequently, as other roads were far they could not ship, would be used to from their place to Memphis, and then have it shipped through at through rates. They must either do this or pay local rates from point to point to Louisville.

A gallant fistic encounter came off yesterday at the corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, between a white man and a stout negro woman. After several lively rallies the white retired in utter disorder from the arena.

RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
WEDNESDAY, September 11.

MEMPHIS—WEATHER—RIVER.

Weather cool and cloudy. The river declining steadily, with seven feet a half feet in the channel to Cairo. The Ohio is falling, with four feet on the bars in the Lower Ohio. White river continues low, with four feet to Augusta. The Arkansas is rapidly falling, with thirty inches only in the channel.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Olive Branch, St. Louis.

DEPARTURES.

Steamer Olive Branch, St. Louis.
" Commercial, White river.
" St. Patrick, Vicksburg.
" City of Alton, St. Louis.
" Empire, Louisville.

IN PORT.

Nothing.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf yesterday quiet, with a small list of arrivals and departures.

The Northern Line steamer Burlington, bound from St. Louis to St. Paul, struck a snag two miles below Wabashaw and sunk. Her bow lies in three feet water and her stern in ten. She is much hogged and twisted, and will probably prove a total loss. The Burlington is in her third year, was built at Wheeling, and cost $60,000.

Captains Williams and John Elliott have been awarded the mail contract between Memphis and Vicksburg, to be carried semi-weekly, commencing on the 1st instant. These gentlemen, owners of the Des Arc, have been owners of steamboats and merchants here in high standing for over twenty years. They are known to be men of fine business capacity as well as experienced and liberality. They will see that the contract shall be well and truly carried out.

Mr. Rapsey, the genial and clever gentleman who presides over the cabins of the St. Patrick, returned from the East yesterday, where he has been sojourning among his friends.

MEMPHIS.—We learn that an unknown man suddenly disappeared from the steamer Cora S., on her last down trip, leaving a wife to mourn his sudden departure. He had with him all the money belonging to the couple, as well as the keys to their baggage. It is more than probable that he will prove another case of "gone scouting." Louis is "married, too."

Captain Fred Adler of the packet in the Memphis and Vicksburg trade by the first of the month.

The Belle St. Louis is the Thursday St. Louis packet.

The Commercial cleared for White river with a splendid trip of freight and passengers.

The St. Patrick, for Vicksburg, got off with a good trip.

The Empire left for Louisville at five p.m., flying light.

The arrivals to this morning were very trifling from the number of strange faces seen in the city, and the filling up of the hotels. The Worsham House was overflowing on Monday night, and was compelled to decline receiving any more guests at that time. This speaks well of the popularity of the hotel, and the judgment of the proprietor in "catering to" receive more than could be properly entertained at his house.

The Gleaner will be found at the wharf this evening, from Little Rock.

The Mississippi, Captain Thompson, leaves the wharf to-day at 10 a.m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The John Kilgour, Captain Calahan, leaves the wharf to-day at 4 p.m., for New Orleans.

The Mollie Hambleton has laid up.

The Memphis, leaves for St. Francis river on Friday next.

The Tampa left Louisville Saturday evening for Memphis.

The fine Arkansas loading at St. Louis for Vicksburg, and is advertised to leave them to-day.

The City of Alton will run the Sunday evening, had not arrived up to a late hour last night. She will probably be found at the wharf this morning, and will leave at ten a.m. for St. Louis. Captain Jesse McPheeters commands, with the lucky Mr. Coghlan in office.

The Kilgour, due, bound for Vicksburg, and the Arthur for New Orleans, it is not arrived up to a late hour last night.

The Arthur and the City of Alton are sojourning on the bars between here and Cairo.

The Olive Branch, packed down yesterday morning for New Orleans, with a good trip.

We trust our City "Dads" will not fail to have that part of the levee between Court and Union streets paved before the wet season sets in. Give us a good levee, and our steamboats will have little use for wharf-boats, which are now of beneficial to our city where they are used for a line of packets that make their terminus here.

The opening of bids for letting the contract to build a canal around the Hollandia Rapids on the Mississippi river, took place at Davenport, Iowa, on Wednesday. A large number of contractors were present, and the number of bids reached twenty-eight. The lowest bids, three in number, were $11,000, the highest over $2,000. Harrington & Son, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, were the successful bidders. The work will commence immediately.

The St. Louis Democrat of Monday says:

There are large and steady receipts of produce at this port, which, with the addition to a much greater bulk, thereby saving the expense of transhipping. The New Orleans shipments are large. The large lines were compelled to refuse freight on account of the packets have all they can do. The delay and bulking at Cairo, and for the St. Louis and New Orleans trade is favorably commenting. Where interested it is in contemplation to cancel it after the celebrated Tehuantepec line will be launched in fifteen days.

A RIOT SCENE ON A STEAMBOAT.—WHITE PEOPLE COMPELLED TO GO TO THE BACK END.—The Cairo City Commercially says: On the meandering packet boat and Memphis, Captain Hinkley, whom nobody ever knew to be better fitted, as well as born by the Hinkley family, to command a boat, was the scene of a riot on Saturday last, the 31st ult. On yesterday last, the Northern and Southern delegates were returning from the National convention at Richmond, on the Memphis, and when the boat left Cairo the principal part of the passenger proceeded to occupy the first table. Some objection was made to this, by a certain class of the passengers, who were placed. Fights and fisticuffs were numerous, and the whites will be obliged to eat at the second table when colored folks are present. N rthern Radical whites will for awhile, be allowed to associate on equal terms with Southern people, but they will soon change their tune. Let the Radicals of the North, and those white p assengers who did not choose to eat with colored folks with good grace, have their way, and they will be allowed retreated to the captain's saloon, where dinner was served. The captain of the boat very wisely endeavored to maintain the supremacy of the white race, and the colored passengers refused to put him ashore if he made further trouble, and take charge of the boat, which he did. Certain Colonel, of Cairo, was knocked down and pleased. It will soon come to pass that the "colored folks"

Radical Demonstration in Honor of the Satrap Sheridan.

Large Democratic Gains in Maine.

The Peace Congress at Geneva.

Official Report of Registration in Virginia

GENEVA, September 9.—Delegates to the Peace Congress are arriving from all parts of Europe. Garibaldi's reception was most enthusiastic. He made a brief speech, declaring his purpose of moving on Rome to be unalterable, and that the plan of action would soon be carried into effect.

LONDON, September 9.—The report that the British captives in Abyssinia had gained their freedom is false.

The Porte has again intimated to the European powers that it cannot admit any intervention in the affairs of Candia, and therefore declines to adopt the project for a joint commission of inquiry.

PARIS, September 9.—The speech made by the Grand Duke of Baden, at the Spectacle of the 6th at Carlsruhe, in which he advocates an alliance with the North German Confederation, gives rise again to feelings of uneasiness in political circles. Fears are entertained that the recent complications will lead to a war, and traditions fully believe that will again disturb the tranquility of Europe.

Reverend Doctor Veron, a celebrated French publicist, died to-day. He was sixty-nine years of age.

WASHINGTON, September 10.—The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday renewed the injunction on account from the Missouri State bonds, 12 of North Carolina bonds, and two of Tennessee bonds, some years ago abstracted from the vaults of the Department of Interior.

ST. LOUIS, September 10.—A demonstration on the part of the Radicals in honor of Phil. Sheridan took place here last night. Speeches of Welcome were made by ex-Governor Smith and Carl Schurz, and replied to by the late commander of the Fifth Military Satrapy.

RICHMOND, September 10.—The official figures of the registration in Virginia, show a total white vote of 115,157 against 110,149 blacks.

PORTLAND, September 10.—Mr. Chamberlain, the Radical candidate, has been elected Governor of Maine by a greatly reduced majority.

NEW YORK, September 10—12 m.—Gold opened at 143¾, and advanced to 143¾, but has since declined to 143⅝. Cotton dull and unchanged. Exchange steady at 10@9 25.
